New Mobile Copyright App Protects Authors' Creative Works

Nashville, TN and Bloomfield Hills, MI USA – Nov 11, 2016 – Digi-Rights, creators of CopyrightsNow®, an innovative app that simplifies the application for U.S. copyright protection, announces this new service for IngramSpark® authors to protect their creative work.

“Copyright protection enables our authors and publishers to protect and enforce their rights from piracy and illegal copying,” said Robin Cutler, Director of IngramSpark, an Ingram Content Group publishing platform from Lightning Source Inc.

“We are always looking for ways to create added value to our author community, and we’re excited to offer CopyrightsNow as a new author resource.”

“We are pleased to offer IngramSpark self-published authors and publishers this mobile tool,” said Dick Stahl, Managing Director of Digi-Rights® Direct LLC. “CopyrightsNow enables authors and creators to lock-in copyright protection for life plus 70 years without the paperwork and complexities.”

Copyright is a form of Intellectual Property, along with trademarks and patents that encourages the development of culture, science and innovation, while providing a financial benefit to copyright holders for their works. Under U.S. copyright law, authors must register copyrights within 3 months of publication and before any infringement occurs to preserve their rights to claim up to $150,000 in statutory damages plus attorney fees in enforcing their copyrights. The CopyrightsNow App enables authors and publishers to manage their copyright application, from their iPad, iPhone and Android device with the speed and security of a cloud service.

CopyrightsNow can be ordered here and the App downloaded from the AppStore or Google Play
